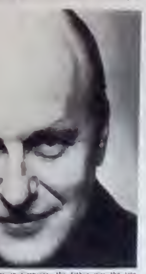
Entertainment Extra by Evelyn

Q. I've been a "Hogan's Heroes" fan for years and one of my favorite actors from that series is Werner Klemperer who played Col. Klink. Can you please me tell me something about his background? Does he have children? And what is he doing these days? Thank you. Hildy R.

A. Klemperer [illegible]



Werner was born in Cologne in Germany. [illegible]

Q. Is Patti Davis (daughter of Ronald and Nancy Reagan) really broke, and is that why she's selling family heirlooms? I thought she had money from her parents as well as from the books she's written. Please set the story straight. Thank you. Betty G.

A. Davis reportedly had what they call a cash flow problem and needed to raise some money to meet expenses quickly. When she was a teenager her father wrote to caution her not to smoke. It's this letter that she offered to sell for $40,000.

Q. What was the name of the soap opera in which Christopher Reeve was seen and tapped for the "Superman" role? My sister says "Secret Storm." I say it was "One Life to Live." Roberta K.

A. It was neither. Reeve was in "Love of Life." But it wasn't the soap that got him noticed. He did a theater tour with Katharine Hepburn and Dorothy Loudon when he was seen by some people who thought he should audition for the first "Superman" movie.

Q. Has CBS canceled "Wiseguy" starring Ken Wahl? Beth T.

A. CBS just announced that "Wiseguy" will not be on their new fall schedule. However, the show will be a mid-season replacement. Sadly though, actor Ken Wahl will only be in the first two to four episodes, and then will be replaced with Stephen Bauer, a new undercover character.

Q. What is Lucille Ball's daughter Lucie Arnaz up to these days? Pamela W.

A. [illegible]

Q. I really enjoy "Saturday With Connie Chung," but I am worried, because I have heard rumors that her program is going to be canceled due to poor ratings. What's the story here? Anthony A.

A. Connie is currently CBS' number one gem, and the network is moving cautiously with her program. In order to boost lackluster ratings, the show is going to be moved to Mondays at 10 p.m. EST, renamed "Face to Face with Connie Chung" and will press more for big-name celebrity interviews.

Q. I can't believe what I heard on the radio, that Bill Cosby is having money problems. The report said he was overdrawn by millions. Is this possible? Olivia D.

A. Anything's possible, but not in this instance. Cosby is in excellent financial health. The story reportedly came from a former employee who is alleged to have mishandled the Cosby family funds in the past.

Q. What will actress Mary Frann be doing now that "Newhart" has gone off the air? Greg S.

A. Already in production, Ms. Frann is starring in an NBC mini-series titled "Lucky," based on the best-seller book by Jackie Collins. Mary portrays a seductive wife who vamps around in sexy lingerie.

Concepts In Modern Printing

Antiques and Collecting by Ralph & Terry Kovel

Lamps with metal bases and glass shades were first made in the early 1900s and now are becoming increasingly popular — and increasingly expensive. The three big names for collectors are Tiffany Studios, Handel and Pairpoint. Tiffany is best known for the leaded glass lamp shades made of many small pieces of colored glass. Pairpoint is famous for the dome-shaped blown out shades which were colored on the inside so the raised flowers on the outside had a lifelike appearance. Handel is best known for the reverse-painted glass dome shapes which were often made on a background that looks like chipped ice. A Handel lamp with a decorated poppy shade recently sold for a record setting price of over $50,000, which may indicate that other flower decorated lamps will be going up in price.

Q. I have a "family pass-down." It is a cookie jar in the shape of a strawberry and it is marked "Sears Exclusive USA Patent Pending." My grandmother used it, so I know that it is at least 45 years old. The paint has faded and is worn. Should I repaint it? Would this hurt the value (even though I would never sell it)? It means very much to me to have Grandma's cookie jar.

A. If you are unhappy looking at the jar in its present condition, it would not hurt to touch up the glaze with a removable paint. If you are sure you will never want to sell the jar and prefer to have it look like new, you should paint it. The touch-up may lower the value of others, but it might make you happier.

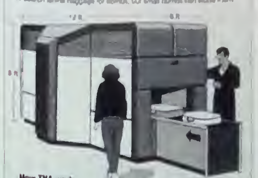
Q. About 60 years ago, my wife was given a 5½-inch high china figure marked on the bottom "Madame Pompadour, F.&R. Germany." The doll had a stylish hairdo, long hoop skirt and a fan in one hand. It is in two pieces. The bottom part is separate. Can you tell me about it?

A. You have a covered dressing table box in a style that was popular in the 1920s. F&R stands for Ebeling and Reuss, an importing firm from the Philadelphia area which has been in business since 1886.

We discovered a limited number of hard-cover copies of the out-of-print book "Kovels Collector's Guide to American Art Pottery" by Ralph and Terry Kovel. Firms are listed with history of factories and over 1,500 pictures of marks and pottery. Send $17.95 for the book plus $2 postage to Kovels, P.O. Box 22900, Beachwood, Ohio 44122.

Baggage explosive detector

The Thermal neutron analysis (TNA) machine detects materials — like plastic explosives — that contain high concentrations of nitrogen. The Federal Aviation Administration has bought six of these machines to search airline baggage for bombs, but small bombs can elude them.



How TNA works:

- Bags move on conveyor belt
- Machine bombards them with neutrons, which react with nitrogen
- Neutrons cause nitrogen to emit gamma rays, a form of radiation
- Detectors sense the gamma rays and show an image of the bag on a color television monitor
- Machine can check 10 bags per minute
- Cost: $750,000 to $1 million
